

PRAYER AS A THEORY AND A FACT. By Rev. D. W. Faunce, D.D. New York: American Tract Society. $1.

The twelve chapters of this book prove that its author has read much and thought well. The themes of the chapters are suggestive: The Possibility of Prayer as Heard and Answered, The Probability of Prayer as Heard and Answered, The Law of Personality in its Bearing on Prayer, The Factor of Sin as Affecting Prayer, The Kingdom of God as Related to Prayer, Prayer as Related to Natural Law, Negative Answers to Prayer are Actual Answers, The Reactions of Sin as they Induce Prayer, The Circular Motion of Prayer, The Lord's Prayer as our Model, Supposed Limitations of Prayer, and Prayer in its Prophecy. The titles are appetizing. They suggest original treatment. No reader of the book can fail of enjoying its style, of being moved by its argument, and of being edified by its spirituality.
