

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Bible and Modern Life is a notable essay. In it, Joseph S. Auerbach sets forth, impressively and with stimulating force, the literary and spiritual treasures of Scripture.

CALIFORNIA. SCENERY AND PEOPLE

Clifton Johnson knows how to choose interesting scenes and how to present them attractively, both in words and photographs. Highways and Byways of California, lead him into all the surrounding states, and this exposition edition will prove a useful and enjoyable companion for travellers to the Panama fair.

Macmillan. $1.50.

ON THE PACIFIC SLOPES

One of the most attractive of the many books on the far West, now coming from the presses to meet the travellers to the San Francisco fair, is In the Oregon Country, by George Palmer Putnam. He knows and loves the Oregon of today and of its not distant but very different yesterday. His descriptions are interesting, his incidents of earlier days have the pathos of frontier life, and the bits of Indian folklore are quite uncommon.

Putnam. $1.75.

FATHER TIERNEY

Father Tierney is the Poet Priest of Missouri, and among the short Poems, grave and gay, some religious and many secular or drawn from the Gaelic, are several that first appeared in The Independent. We are glad to see Father Tierney's name added to the list of American Catholic poets, with those of Father Tabb, Father Ryan, Miss Guiney and others that might be mentioned. The volume is very attractively issued.
