

Book Reviews.

Tuberculosis or Consumption. By H. H. SPIERS, M.D., Oberlin, O. Price, $2 00.

The subject-matter of this monograph has appeared mainly in the pages of the LANCET-CLINIC. The author looks upon the disease as one dependent upon the evils of civilization, and is in accord with atmospheric environments, which may be from within or from without, and cause a depraved tissue or dyscrasia.

The Medical Record Visiting List—Physician's Diary. New York: Wm. Wood & Co., Publishers.

This is an excellent list—in fact, one of the best of the class of publications that is absolutely necessary for the physician's use, being revised and made into a modern up-to-date list in every particular.

The Physicians' Pocket Account-Book. Issued by the Medical Council, of Philadelphia.

This is a very practical book, a little larger and a little more complete than the ordinary visiting-list of the past, and is intended to answer the purposes of a ledger as well as a visiting list.
