

Alice MacGowan, who gave us "Judith of the Cumberlands" and other vital and intimate pictures of the mountaineers, dreamed from her childhood of writing a story of the Civil War, especially as it centered about Chickamauga and Chattanooga. She now gives us the great story "The Sword in the Mountains." ($1.35 net.)

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.