

MRS. HELEN CHOATE BELL, to whom the anonymous volume of poetry, 'The Heart of the Weed,' is dedicated, is the daughter of the late Rufus Choate. The book takes its title from Lowell's line, 'To win the secret of the weed's plain heart.'

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.